Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2876

Claims 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Knowles et al. (Knowles et al. – 2001/0017320; herein after referred to as Knowles).

Regarding claim 4, Knowles shows in figure 1 a scanner 20 which is mounted on a base 22 and pivotable relative to the base about an axis of rotation 34 and the direction transverse axis 32.

As can be seen, Knowles discloses the claimed invention.

Claims 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Aragon (Aragon – 5,477,044).

Regarding claim 4, Aragon shows in figure 4 a bar code scanner that is mounted on three different rotational axes (see figure 4). Further, Aragon discloses in the descriptions of figures 1-4 that the scanner can be mounted on a stand or a fixed position which is considered as the claimed base.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12-28 are allowed.

Claims 5-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2876

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The prior art fails to disclose a scanning assembly comprising base, an optical scanner which is attached to the base and is pivotable about a rotation axis and wherein the base is movable in the transverse direction; and further comprising the a hing portion as recited in claims 5-10.

The prior art also fails to disclose the limitations of claims 12-28.
